

The right analysis will win you the game!

ABB Analytical solutions for every industry

With the ABB analytical systems you can improve your company's performance and reduce your environmental tax. Our integrated analytical systems deliver real-time analyses of the quantitative and qualitative properties of raw materials and (semi-)manufactured products in the chemical, petrochemical, pharmaceutical, food and dairy industries. For continuous gas analysis in the most diverse applications, we've got just the right analyzers for you. Our emission systems also help monitor the discharge of gases at, for example, power stations and waste processing plants. So, if you're looking for a one-stop shop for all your analyses, contact us right away.
